SUBJECT: Frypot Warranty

Repeated banging of fry baskets against the interior of a frypot (figure 1) can cause damage to the frypot and the fry basket. Over a period of time, such abuse can puncture the frypot. See figure 2.

The warranty on Frymaster frypots covers manufacturing defects and or weld/seam failure. The warranty does not cover damage caused by pounding fry baskets or other objects against the frypot.

Frypots submitted for warranty replacement exhibiting signs of abuse will be rejected.

Figure 1: Repeatedly ramming a fry basket against the foam deck of a fryer to drain product causes damage, which is not covered by warranty.
